

ARTos Foundation

Theatre Performance “JHIVA – IN BODY”

Theatro Transcendental

Saturday, 28 January 2012, 7.00pm (GREEK)

Sunday, 12 February 2012, 7.00pm (ENGLISH)

“Jhiva” means the immortal part of us – that which lives before we are born and continues to live after we die. What does this ‘immortal’ part do while we go about our everyday lives? The performance combines live action and multimedia, following the life of the famous philosopher Frederic Nietzsche through the eyes of his “Jhiva”. What would change in our lives if we could connect with this part of us which lives on after we are gone?

Theatro Transcendental concerns itself with themes and issues dealing with personal development, embodying them through theatrical action. The company fortifies this aim using a combination of artistic techniques such as music, dance, multimedia and art.

Director/Multimedia:	Eleni Cosma
Playwright/Role of ‘Jhiva’:	Korina Kontaxaki
Choreography/ Kinesiology:	Elsa Souroulla
Set Design:	Nathalie Kyrou
Sound Design:	Heleniq Argyrou
Psalms:	Kostas Kontaxakis
Makeup:	Mara Kontaxaki

www.theatrotranscendental.com

Performances

Saturday, 28th January 2012 at 7pm (Greek)

Sunday, 12th of February 2012 at 7pm (English)

Entrance: 15 Euros

Info/Bookings 99312710